WELCOME

Welcome on board

Thank you for choosing to fly with us today, it's our pleasure to welcome you on board.

Our core network keeps the Channel Islands connected with year round high frequency sustainable air connectivity; this year we are complementing this by adding a seasonal services to Dublin and Norwich.

Following a successful launch in 2022, direct links to France will also return this year with more flights over an extended season. This summer will see up to three flights per week to Rennes, Jersey's gateway to the beautiful region of Brittany and beyond. Furthermore, convenient flights direct to Ibiza also return for 2023, with more flights, over a 10-week season, providing easy direct access for that hit of Mediterranean sun.

As we continue to develop our network, we are focused on balancing our wider environmental impact.

December 2022 marked the first anniversary of our partnership with Durrell and its Rewild Carbon programme. Through which we balance our carbon emissions as we explore the development of next-generation fuel and propulsion technologies for commercial use and the ultimate goal of becoming net zero. Our partnership with Rewild Carbon is the vital first step of our journey to a sustainable future, and has balanced the carbon emissions from every single Blue Islands flight since December 2022 by planting of 56,000 trees in the Brazilian Atlantic Forest – that's an area equivalent to 28 rugby pitches! Learn more >>

If you haven't already, why not join Blue Skies Club, our simple, generous rewards programme? And when you are choosing your next flight, our low fare finder makes it even easier to discover our lowest fares at a glance, for every destination for up to 12 months.

Thank you once again for flying with us today and we hope to see you again soon.

Best wishes,

Rob

FREEDOM TO FLY

Enjoy travel again in '23

Travel is an essential part of island life. Yet we know that many are affected by an anxiety or fear of flying, which has a very real impact on the ability of those to connect with family and friends, take that business trip or enjoy a new holiday experience.

We'd like to help. Bringing together classroom sessions with our training pilots, a behavioural change coach and putting the learnings into action in an experience flight our previous Freedom to Fly courses have changed the lives of previous attendees. What's more, our courses are complimentary.

It was a very positive experience for me, so much information, all logical and I feel much better placed to take back control of my fear.

“

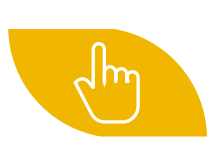

I'm already looking into where I want to go on my next holiday and I am doing it without the worry of knowing that I have to fly there.
